

Spring

Dear Parents,

Thank the Lord! Spring has sprung! Spring will be our theme in preschool for the week of March 22-26. Planting, building, cleaning, growing, wakening...it must be spring! Our activities for the week will hopefully chase away those winter doldrums and spark an epidemic of spring fever. Your little ones will be amazed at the changes happening all around.

One of the books that I will use for all 3 classes to help introduce the season of spring is Vocabulary Tales: A Plant of My Own. This new book of mine gives us an excellent idea of what spring is all about, but in a story form for young ones.

We will make time to play outside on the playground equipment, something we haven't been able to do all winter. P2 and P3 will go out on Monday and P1 on Tuesday, weather permitting. If rain moves in, we'll try for another day this week. ☺

We will have some spring finger plays we can do and a game called "Bluebird Through My Window". We continue working on our letters- their sounds, how to print them, and which ones make up our name. A few students are even printing their last names now.

It's great!!

Many times the art projects that we do, we hang up for awhile. They do come home eventually. Do feel free to ask your child about their projects and take a look in the classroom when you have the time.

Thank you to those that could attend our Preschool/Kindergarten Registration night. It was a success. Thanks to Nicole Fuhrer, Megan Sabers, Delores Miller and of course my aides, Miss Haynes Ross and Mrs. Putnam for helping to make it that way.

*Our school's FundRaiser night is March 30 at Culver's. Please join us!

Happy Spring!
God Bless You,
Mrs. Owens
